

Graduate Admissions Committee Standing Rules Revisions

Note: Blue, bolded text indicates proposed new verbiage and strike-through text indicates proposed deletions. The proposed clean version and current version also appear below.

Proposed Revisions

The Graduate Admissions Committee acts on appealed applications for admission to the Graduate School. Candidates are considered on the basis of the undergraduate record and the preparation for graduate work, with special reference to the particular field desired.

The Committee consists of eight Faculty members, at least seven of whom are Graduate Faculty members from different colleges, ~~with the Director of Admissions ex-officio, non-voting.~~ The committee members should be selected to ensure adequate representation of international education. The Vice Provost and Dean of the Graduate School shall appoint an ex-officio, non-voting Graduate School representative. The Chair of the Graduate Admissions Committee shall be a liaison member, non-voting, on the Graduate Council.

Rationale:

- The proposed revision reflects that the graduate admissions function was transferred from the Office of Admissions to the Graduate School.
- The Committee has reviewed and approved the proposed revisions.

Proposed Clean Version

The Graduate Admissions Committee acts on appealed applications for admission to the Graduate School. Candidates are considered on the basis of the undergraduate record and the preparation for graduate work, with special reference to the particular field desired.

The Committee consists of eight Faculty members, at least seven of whom are Graduate Faculty members from different colleges. The committee members should be selected to ensure adequate representation of international education. The Vice Provost and Dean of the Graduate School shall appoint an ex-officio, non-voting Graduate School representative. The Chair of the Graduate Admissions Committee shall be a liaison member, non-voting, on the Graduate Council.

Current Verbiage

The Graduate Admissions Committee acts on appealed applications for admission to the Graduate School. Candidates are considered on the basis of the undergraduate record and the preparation for graduate work, with special reference to the particular field desired.

The Committee consists of eight Faculty members, at least seven of whom are Graduate Faculty members from different colleges, with the Director of Admissions, ex-officio, non-voting. The committee members should be selected to ensure adequate representation of international education. The Chair of the Graduate

Admissions Committee shall be a liaison member, non-voting, on the Graduate Council.